HAS A. J. HEPBURN PERISHED?

A Party in Search of Him—City Council—A Hit at the Dog Question.

"Lost in the mountains and frozen to death" were the words whispered around the streets last Sunday of the fate of Andrew J. Hepburn. But whether the rumor is true or not is yet to be ascertained. Mr. Hepburn is one of the proprietors of the Apex mine, which has become heralded as one of the best showing claims in the North Fork district. During the fall and winter he has been constantly at the mine at work in company with J. H. Dyer. Having been absent from Ogden for months he and Mr. Dyer decided to come down from camp to spend the holidays. The snow in the mountains was heavy, but nevertheless, they left camp a few days before Christmas. They made an early start with the intention of reaching Smithville's ranch by night. The deep snow, being yet fresh and unpacked, made traveling an arduous task, and in the afternoon Dyer became tired out and could proceed no further. Hepburn carried a quantity of wood and assisted him in building a fire and then left for the ranch, which was then about a mile distant. His object was to reach the ranch and procure a horse and then go back and assist his companion in shelter. Dyer watched for his return during the night, and all the time kept his fire burning. The night was clear and fearfully cold, and when morning dawned both of his feet were painfully frozen. Hepburn had not returned, and he started on his trail, which he followed for about half a mile and then lost it. With his feet burning with pain, he reached the ranch, and no one had seen Hepburn there. Thinking perhaps he might have come on to Ogden, he secured an opportunity to ride and came in. But his companion had not yet arrived, and fearing that perhaps he might have lost his way in a deep and treacherous ravine which it was necessary for him to cross, a posse was organized which left Sunday morning to scour the country in search of the missing man. Major E. A. Littlefield, being a part owner in the mining property and familiar with the lay of the country, volunteered to guide the posse in the search. Up to late last evening nothing had been heard from the searchers. The heavy snow of Sunday evening no doubt interfered with their plans.

Railroad News.

The Utah & Northern passenger was over three hours late yesterday.
Superintendent Bancroft made a business trip to the capital city yesterday.
The Rio Grande Western passenger, which should have arrived at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, was six hours late.
The heavy snow storms along the different lines of railways did not affect the usual running of passenger trains, aside from the Utah & Northern yesterday.

Sporting Notes.

A tug of war is one of the events for Ogden in the near future. Judge Campbell of Pueblo, will assist in the management of the affair. It will probably take place in the Novelty theatre.

The First District Court.

The following orders were made yesterday in the first district court:
The United States vs. Sidney Stevens et al., on motion of E. M. Allison, order for judgment of dismissal nunc pro tunc as of September 7, 1891.
The People, etc., vs. F. W. Clark, order fixing bond of defendant at $500; in each case sureties to justify in double the amount.
O. J. Salisbury vs. A. H. Nelson et al., order overruling demurrer by consent.

Police Court.

In the police court yesterday the magistrate made short work of two drunks who were barged by the police on the charge of disturbing the peace. They were fined $5 and $10 respectively.

Probate Court.

In probate yesterday George L. Watts filed letters of administration in the estate of Edward M. Watts, deceased.

Arrested by the United States Marshal.

Deputy United States Marshal J. B. McLehlan arrested in Huntsville, on Saturday, Augustus Ohlsen, on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. The defendant waived examination and gave bonds for his appearance.

Yesterday Marshal St. John arrested

Andrew J. Kirschaw and his alleged pregnant wife, Mrs. Emma Ramsden, in this city, on the charge of adultery. They gave bonds of $1,000 and $500 to await the action of the grand jury.

A Hit on the Dog Question.

The following article was published in the last number of the Sports Field, and was written by a correspondent in Denver: Ogden, Utah, is a very beautiful little city. Located near the mouth of the Ogden canon, it has many beautiful things, likewise, beautiful dogs and a beautiful dog law. At least, so an ordinarily informed person would say. The dog law is $2 per year for dogs and $10 for bitches. The city council pays no salary to the dog catcher, but allows him a fee for each dog caught. A friend of mine remained one week in Ogden last fall and had to pay for the dog catcher. The latter he had neither the time nor the inclination to do so, so he paid up the fee. "By the way," said my friend, "I have heard about the dog catcher, good hunting, etc., in the vicinity of the beautiful city, and feel inclined to take a ramble in the hills, remember if you take your dog you will certainly have to pay liberally for the privilege of keeping the animal off your neighbor's place. That is, if the dog-catcher should chance to catch his animal legs on him."

General Cleanings.

Lincoln Lodge No. 9, Knights of Pythias, is to be instituted in the A. O. U. W. hall tomorrow night. The charter members all come in by card.

At the Western Union telegraph office

are undelivered messages for J. Y. Williams, General A. Brown and Mrs. J. C. Omeberg.

"The Clemencia Case" will hold

the boards at the Grand opera house tomorrow night.

The P. O. S. of A. are arranging to hold a grand ball in Washington's birthday, December 22. It is understood that the proceeds are to go towards the purchase of flags for the public school buildings.

Manager Hillman of the Gurney Cab Co., presented yesterday a fine gold watch as a Christmas present by his employees.

The "Fatinista" sheets were put up yesterday. It will be presented at the Grand opera house New Year's eve.

W. W. Funge, Jr., left for California yesterday on a visit of two months' duration.

Adam Patterson and wife left for California yesterday to be absent during the winter.

The La Plata stage did not come down yesterday.

Alex. Loeb returned yesterday afternoon from a trip to Logan, where he had been on business.

The county court will meet in regular session today.

Dr. M. N. Graves is moving his office to the First National bank building.

Ben Toms has moved his office to rooms 223 and 224 Utah Loan and Trust building.

C. J. Weatherly, Esq., of Salt Lake, was in Ogden yesterday.

T. W. Weston, the prominent Chicago liquor dealer, was in the city yesterday looking after the affairs of his branch establishment here.

The street cars found it hard navigating on the beach yesterday on account of the snow storm of preceding night.

The Ogden letter carriers will hold their first annual ball at the opera house tonight.

An order was received from the postmaster-general at the Ogden postoffice that in future it shall be unlawful for any collecting agency to send envelopes through the mails upon which its card is printed.

Although coming from Waukegan, the or will undoubtedly meet with general favor.

A most highly esteemed young couple of Ogden, while out sleigh-riding Sunday evening, met with an accident that will not be forgotten by either.

The sleigh was spirited, and when the sleighing party became overcast the sleigh became more anxious to get home.

The sleigh was not at all smooth and the swift speed of the sleigh caused the sleigh to upset and its contents were spilled.

It is needless to say they reached this city by means of a different conveyance.

C. H. McClure, of the First district court, was in the capital city yesterday.

The City Council.

Mayor Turner in the chair. The report of the committee on claims was adopted.

Bills amounting to $1,139.48 were allowed.

The finance committee recommended that the amount of insurance to be placed on city buildings should not exceed 75 per cent. of their value.

Councilor Elliott moved that the city recorder advertise for bids for the construction of sewers on Adams and Moore avenues between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. Carried.

A preliminary ordinance was read for the third time, with some changes by title, and passed.

Orville D. Banks and William M. Thompson filed their unconditional acceptance of ordinance granting them a franchise to use the streets of Ogden to operate and maintain a system for the transmission of electricity for motive power, heating, lighting, etc., from the proposed power works at the mouth of Ogden canon.

The city poundkeeper filed his report. Council adjourned.

PROVO.

TUESDAY, December 29.

OFFENDERS IN COURT.

The B. Y. Academy Entertainment and Other Amusements.

The first district court is occupied in the trial of the Kasherum water case. There is a host of witnesses being examined, and the case promises to keep the attention of the court for some time.

Roy Wilkins and Lyman Robbins were brought before the police court yesterday for fighting on Christmas eve, at the Palace saloon. Wilkins was installed on the evening named as a special policeman and was wandering about this saloon, where he met Robbins. They are both strolling fellows and the latter appeared quarrelsome and aggressive. Words were passed. Finally Robbins made a pass at Wilkins, landing a heavy blow upon his cheek, nearly sending him to grass. Wilkins gathered himself together, and the men mauling one another in a most shocking way, surrounded by a large and apparently infuriated crowd.

The honors were about evenly divided when the officers took a hand.

Robbins pleaded guilty and was fined $20. Wilkins pleaded not guilty and was acquitted.

The examination of Rhodes, a barber of Payson, was begun yesterday afternoon before Commissioner Hills. He is charged with fornication, the complaint being made by Hotelkeeper Betts of Payson. The evidence in the case is developing some very suspicious circumstances. Both were bound over to await the action of the grand jury. The former was held in $500 bonds and the latter in $300.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The committee which has in hand the arrangement of a programme and exercises for the dedication of the new B. Y. academy building on January 4, is exerting every effort to make this a very auspicious affair. Present people from all parts of Utah will participate in the event, which is looked upon as a grand stride forward in the progress of this institution of learning.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" was booked for the opera house to-night, but Manager Graham stated last evening that nothing had been heard from the management of the company, and from all appearances the company would not show up. Of late a number of the standard companies have given Provo the go-by under the impression that it is not a good show town. The fact is, Provo is not a good show town, and frequently these snide companies are greeted with a house full of vacant chairs. A good comedy can be insured, a crowded house and due appreciation once or twice a week.

The ball given by the Republican drum corps at the opera house on Friday night was one of the most successful of the season. It was socially and financially. Reed Smoot and Albert Glazier managed the floor and gave the utmost satisfaction to the guests.

E. A. Wedgwood returned yesterday from Orem and reported a case brought against Dennis Black and others who charivariated Bishop Moody and created an uproar at Deseret on the 22nd which set the whole neighborhood in motion. The bishop had been recently married and failed to observe the custom of giving a wedding ball to his friends, and the boys were brought before him for reprobation. They were brought before him for reprobation. They were brought before him for reprobation.

There will be a concert given at the Methodist Episcopal church to-night under the management of our well known local soloist, Miss Dorcas Hildreth. The best local talent has been secured and arrangements are being made for one of Salt Lake's favorite vocalists to be present.

Sleigh riding has been the chief sport of the past few days. Utah lake ice is so solid and there are many engaged in the favorite pastime of skating.

PERSONAL.

Auctioneer Hill has returned from American Fork, where he has sold a large stock of goods under the hammer.

A pleasant party was given at the Fourth Ward meeting house last evening. Alderman Maiben, of Mandi, is a visitor in Provo.

Marriage Bells Tolling—The Christmas Herald—Amusements—Education.

The number of marriages that have been consummated in Kaysville the past few months has been phenomenal, but the record was broken last week by the ceremonies being performed which united two happy couples for life.

On Thursday evening last Bishop Peter Barton officiated in tying the nuptial knot which made Miss Nettie Payne and Mr. Walter Hedrick one for life. Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick will make their future home at Castle Gate, where the groom has a lucrative position as bookkeeper for the Rio Grande Western. We extend congratulations.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Burton, sr., was the scene of a most happy gathering early on Christmas morning, when some of the friends of Miss Leah Burton and Mr. O. A. Taylor assembled to witness the marriage of the young couple. Bishop Barton officiated, and the happy pair was launched on the sea of matrimony under very auspicious circumstances. This is the third marriage that has taken place in Mr. Burton's family within a month, and consequently his family circle is left in a rather depleted condition. The bride is one of the reigning belles of the town, and both she and Mr. Taylor are esteemed members of society in Kaysville. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left shortly after the ceremony on a wedding tour to the coast, where they will spend their honeymoon. Their numerous friends wish them every good thing and for their happiness through life.

THE CHRISTMAS HERALD.

THE CHRISTMAS HERALD is having a large sale in Kaysville, and is spoken of in a very complimentary manner by those who should be to judge correctly of its merits. It is truly "a souvenir of Utah," and as such commends itself to all wishing a concise and accurate account of existing affairs in our territory. The Herald's local agent, Mr. Jamison, has the issue on sale.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Johnson Bros. Dramatic company in "Sumter to Appomattox" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" withdrew the sole theatrical attraction last week. The attendance was not very large on either evening.

"From Sumter to Appomattox," which was presented on Wednesday evening, is an interesting drama, and the different characters in the cast were cleverly handled.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was presented on Thursday evening, but it did not capture the audience to any great extent. The parts were taken well enough, but the size of our stage will not admit of such a play being put on correctly.

FOR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES.

A meeting of the residents of school district No. 8 was held at the Central schoolhouse at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and it was decided by unanimous vote to levy a special tax on property in the district of one half of one per cent. for the purpose of purchasing a site and erecting a schoolhouse in a northwestern part of the district, and furnishing the same with the necessary furniture and supplies.

The residents of that particular neighborhood are to be congratulated upon the success attending their efforts to have a building erected in that quarter. Their demands were just, and we are pleased to know that they are to be complied with, as this will enable a number of children to attend school who have heretofore been without the privilege.

NOTES ON THE SIDE.

Sleigh riding is the order of the day. The business houses were all closed on Saturday, and a general holiday was observed.

Appropriate Christmas exercises were rendered at the Presbyterian chapel on Christmas eve.

The ball given by the social and literary society on Friday evening was an enjoyable affair. Another ball under their auspices will be given on New Year's night.

KATSVILLE, Dec. 28, 1891.

The deputy registrars will be at the Metropolitan hotel this week to register those who were omitted in the house to house visit. All Democrats should bear in mind and see that they are properly listed.

LA GRIPPE!

The tendency of this disease towards pneumonia is what makes it dangerous. La grippe requires precisely the same treatment as a severe cold. Chamberlain's cough remedy is famous for its cures of severe colds. This remedy effectually counteracts the tendency of the disease to result in pneumonia, provided that proper care be taken to keep the system cool and covering from the attack. Careful inquiry among the many thousands who have used this remedy during the epidemics of the past two years has failed to discover a single case that has not recovered or that has resulted in pneumonia; 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.

A SURE CURE FOR PILLS.

Itching Pills are known by molasses like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This form as well as Blind, Bleeding and protruding, yield at once to Dr. Ross's Pills. Little remedy, which acts directly on the bowels, expels the cause of tumors, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. 50c. drugists or mail; circulars free.
